IN THREE NATIONS

Troops Move To Crush Rebels

By United Press International

Government troops in Guatemala, Nicaragua and Costa Rica moved to crush armed rebel forces on their territories today.

Guatemalan President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes announced "liquidation" of the rebellion in his country. He called off around-the-clock bombardment of rebel positions in northeast Guatemala, saying he wished to avoid useless bloodshed. He said there still was scattered resistance but called it unimportant.

IN NICARAGUA, one rebel group of 14 men surrendered to government troops and gave up unarmed 200 children they had held as hostages. A second rebel group fled toward the Costa Rican border in an attempt to escape.

In Costa Rica, the government launched an all-out assault against Guerrilla bands trying to invade neighboring Nicaragua.

THE INSURGENT forces were described by all three governments as Communists and "mercenaries" supported by Cuba's Fidel Castro.

Only scattered casualty figures had been published, but losses at some points were believed to be heavy.

LATEST REPORTS said loyal forces were in control in all three countries, but did not discount the possibility that reinforcements from Cuba might change the picture at any moment.

Officials in Guatemala charged flatly that the weekend uprisings were part of a plot hatched in Cuba to clamp Communist control on all of Central America.

Cuban officials denied any connection with the attacks.

VIOLENCE ABSENT IN NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — U. S. marshals escorted four Negro girls into first grade classes in formerly all-white New Orleans public schools today and State police under the legislature's orders to stop integration let them pass.

No violence was reported, with 140 city policemen on guard. But the setting for potential violence increased as crowds swelled rapidly about the two integrated schools.

SCHOOL AUTHORITIES did not disclose, until the Negroes were actually in the schools, what schools were going to be integrated. Consequently, crowds were not sure where to congregate at first.

Two busloads of police rushed to McDonough No. 19 School, where three 6-year-old Negro girls were put in class with about seven white girls.

The reinforcements brought the total police force at McDonough No. 19 to more than 100, including mounted police. The crowd increased to more than 500 persons and police stood 10 feet apart all around the building.

At William Frantz School, about two miles away, 40 policemen ringed the building, protecting one Negro girl.

Gov. JIMMIE H. Davis, who has sworn to go to jail rather than permit integration, was still free, at last report.

The legislature, meeting in a special anti-integration session in Baton Rouge, 80 miles to the north, rallied at what went on in New Orleans, but did nothing about it.

"I say it is now time to arrest U.S. District Court Judge Skelly Wright and those officials in New Orleans," state Rep. John Garrett of upstate Claiborne Parish said.

JUDGE WRIGHT ordered the integration.

The White House recognized the potential explosiveness of the conflict between federal government and state in New Orleans. A spokesman for the White House disclosed today that President Eisenhower talked to Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers about the situation.

Car Kills Youth Walking on Road

THERMAL — Richard Albert Love, 19, of Duluth, Minn., was killed at approximately 6 p. m. Sunday, when he was struck by a car as he walked south on Highway 111 here, the California Highway Patrol said.

George R. Arcaris, 26, Pasadena, driver of the car which struck Love, was injured and is in Casita Hospital, Indio, the CHP reported. Arcaris, an insurance adjuster, was northbound on Highway 111 and passing a car when the accident occurred, officers said.

Elizabeth Taylor Has New Tests

Painful Illness Sent Film Beauty Crying to Hospital

LONDON (UPI) — Film beauty Elizabeth Taylor was kept under heavy sedation today while puzzled doctors carried out a series of tests to determine the cause of a painful illness that sent her crying in pain to a hospital Sunday night.

Up to late in the afternoon, a member of Miss Taylor's entourage said, her ailment had not been diagnosed.

THE SAME SOURCE, asked about unconfirmed rumors that the beautiful young star might be a victim of meningitis, told United Press International there had been fear of meningitis. But he added: "If it was meningitis, the doctors would have discovered it hours ago."

A doctor close to the case confirmed to UPI that meningitis was unlikely.

THERE WAS growing speculation late that Miss Taylor may have a hidden tumor, but his report also was without confirmation.

Miss Taylor's husband, singer Eddie Fisher, summoned a physician from the United States to consult with British doctors on the intensely painful illness that has hit the beautiful star.

THE RAVEN - HAIR actress was taken to the London Clinic by ambulance Sunday night in such pain that she clutched her head and wept as she was carried from her hotel.

She was reported "fairly comfortable" today but her condition puzzled her husband and the doctors.

Medical specialists, including Lord Evans, began a series of tests to pinpoint the origin of the latest in a series of health setbacks which have afflicted her for seven weeks.

Clifford Meets With Persons

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President-elect John F. Kennedy's liaison men today began the complicated task of arranging the transfer of administrations with President Eisenhower's chief assistant.

SHOWING HER SUPPORT of her candidate, even though he was defeated Nov. 3, is Phyllis Williams, third grade student at Agua Caliente School. She wrote her support to Richard Nixon during the campaign, and received a "thank you" written on Nov. 4—four days before election. (Desert Sun Photo).

THIRD GRADE GIRL PROUD OF LETTER

A third grade student at Agua Caliente School here is proud of a letter and picture, although disappointed that her candidate did not win the Presidency of the United States.

Phyllis Williams wrote a letter to Richard Nixon, Vice President of the United States, endorsing his candidacy for president.

SHE DIDN'T expect an answer from a man so involved in last minute campaigning, but one did come and it was written on Nov. 4 and was personally signed.

The letter follows:

County Planners To Have Four Desert Items

Four of the six items listed on the County Planning Commission's agenda for Tuesday concern the Desert area.

At 10 a. m. a continued hearing on a change of zone in the Indian Wells District will be held, followed by discussions on change of zones for Otto K. Olesen in the Indian Wells District, and another for Indian Wells Country Club Estates.

The commission will be asked to approve a tentative map located in the Silver Spurs Properties, containing 27 acres and 80 lots.

The meeting, starting at 10 a. m., will be held in the supervisorial chambers.

BELGIUM ISSUES WITHDRAWAL THREAT TO U. N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Belgium today threatened to withdraw from the United Nations unless U.N. officials cease attacks on the Belgium government.

Belgium Foreign Minister M. P. Wigny told a press conference "what they have done is not permitted in my country, even by the head of the opposition."

Wigny said the Belgium people and government were "greatly aroused" by the treatment given his country by U. N. officials.

Discuss Problems Of U. S.

MIAMI (UPI) — President-elect John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon today had what Kennedy described as a "very cordial meeting" for about an hour at Nixon's vacation headquarters.

They arranged to meet again in Washington, probably early next month.

The president-elect said he found Nixon "very cooperative" in discussing problems of the transition from Republican to a Democratic administration and they discussed "the many problems facing the United States."

KENNEDY SAW reporters briefly after the meeting, and later termed the meeting "frank and cordial."

Speaking for the Democrats, Kennedy said, "We are assuming responsibility in a most hazardous time and I think it would be helpful to see the vice president again."

Kennedy also said he thought this was a sign for bipartisanship in foreign affairs and he thought both parties respected the situation.

ASKED ABOUT the possibility of using Nixon in his administration, Kennedy said, "Mr. Nixon has a responsibility as the leader of his party and perhaps he could better describe that responsibility than I could."

Asked if he had offered the vice president a post in his administration, Kennedy said they did not discuss it.

Kennedy laughed when a newsman asked if Nixon indicated he would try to run against him again in 1964.

ANOTHER ASKED if there was discussion of the recently-concluded 1960 campaign.

"We discussed it from a professional point of view," Kennedy said amid more laughter. "I asked him how he took Ohio."

Kennedy said Nixon "was extremely cooperative" and he hopes to meet with the vice president again in early December.

Newsman pressed Kennedy for more details of the conversation but he repeatedly refused to go into more specifics.

HE SAID HE plans definitely to see President Eisenhower before inauguration day next Jan. 20, the time depending on Eisenhower's plans.

Asked if it was true that he had been aggravated by attacks Nixon made about him at the end of the campaign, Kennedy said the fact that he went to see Nixon indicated how he felt about their relationship.

Christmas Seal Campaign Starts

The 34th annual campaign of the Christmas Seal Agency opened this week in Palm Springs and throughout the nation.

Postmen will deliver Seals to 5,500 homes in this area, according to Mrs. John W. Williams, local representative on the board of directors of the County Tuberculosis Association which sponsors the drive.

"WE THINK OUR many friends will enjoy using this year's attractive Seals on their Christmas greetings and packages, and that they will continue their support of the vital services which this traditional campaign supports throughout the year," Mrs. Williams said.

The only screening x-ray service available in the entire county.

"WITH LAWS requiring the tuberculosis free screening of persons who handle food served to the public, and regulations requiring that all persons who work with children in schools and foster homes be certified as being without infectious tuberculosis, a heavy responsibility has fallen upon the Christmas Seal supported services," Mrs. Williams said.

"Indications are that more legitimate demands will be made upon these services in 1961 than ever before," Mrs. Williams said, expressing confidence that the people of this area will wish to see these services fully supported.

Sun Town Park Council Elects 1960-61 Officers

CATHEDRAL CITY — The newly elected Sun Town Council held its first meeting of the season Thursday night to select the organizations new officers.

Stuart Carrier was elected chairman of the group and Gus Schroeder vice chairman. A secretary is yet to be chosen.

Other members of the council, all of whom were elected Thursday night, are George Astel, Edwin Brandley, Harry Nelson, Lee Stettler and Cecil Thomas.

In addition to these seven there are two ex-officio officers, Chet Kennedy, president of Sun Town Men's Club and Alsworth Hastings, manager of the park.

The Sun Town Council was formed last year for the purpose of embodying democratic principals in matters within the society of Sun Town. The council represents all the residents of the trailer park community and serves as liaison between management and the residents.

Regular meetings are held once every month on the first Saturday. The next meeting, specially called, will be held soon to discuss the agenda for the season.

Just As Good

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — The price difference between white and brown eggs has no real foundation, says the Minnesota State Medical Association. One is just as nutritious as the other, and it's merely a matter of pigmentation in the shell.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Nov. 14, the 319th day of the year with 47 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its new quarter.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1765, Robert Fulton, inventor of the first commercially successful steamboat was born.

In 1832, the first streetcar in the world, made its appearance on the streets of New York. It was called a "horse car."

In 1889, Indian Prime Minister Nehru was born.

In 1934, President Roosevelt proclaimed the Philippine Islands to be a free commonwealth.

Thought for today: English poet Lord Byron said: "Man's love is of man's life a thing apart; 'tis woman's whole existence."

Powell Predicts Action on Wage, School Aid Bills

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., has forecast that the House Education and Labor Committee will approve a minimum wage bill and a school aid measure in the first month of the 87th Congress.

The Negro congressman is in line to succeed Rep. Graham A. Barden, (D-N.C.), as chairman of the committee under the congressional seniority system. Barden did not seek re-election.

Powell Friday said he had discussed the minimum wage and school aid issues with President-elect John F. Kennedy. Both measures were high on Kennedy's legislative priority list in the post-convention session, but neither was passed.

Kennedy's school plan would let the states decide whether to spend federal aid funds for the teachers' salaries as well as construction. The Eisenhower administration opposed use of federal funds for teachers' salaries.

Kennedy wanted to raise the federally-enforced floor from $1 to $1.25 an hour. The administration favored $1.15.

IN CALIFORNIA

Death Penalty Has Gruesome History

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series of three articles dealing with capital punishment in California. The third article will appear in Tuesday's Desert Sun.)

By DE VAN L. SHUMWAY
SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Democracy at Claret L. Olson took office on Jan. 2, 1939, as governor of California and almost immediately took steps toward freeing one of the state's most controversial prison inmates — Thomas Mooney. Mooney and Warren K. Billings were convicted of murder in the July 22, 1916, bombing of a San Francisco parade in which 10 persons were killed and 40 injured.

BOTH PROCLAIMED their innocence and Mooney was particularly vocal in demanding vindication. He was sentenced to death while Billings got a life sentence. Gov. William D. Stephens had commuted Mooney's death sentence "because of the earnest request" of President Woodrow Wilson — but Stephens and other governors refused to grant an outright pardon.

Soon after he took office, Olson brought Mooney to Sacramento. The National Science Foundation sponsors annual surveys of industrial research and development.

Russian doctors recently reported successful use of the live polio vaccine developed by Dr. Albert Sabin of Cincinnati.

and in a dramatic ceremony held before spotlights in the Assembly Chamber, handed Mooney his pardon papers.

OLSON SAID HE was convinced of Mooney's innocence and that "the prosecution trial testimony was 'perjured' against the labor leader.

After that, Olson went on to set the record for executive clemency — the constitutional right of governors to save from death any prisoner he believes was unjustly sentenced.

His total of commutations granted reached 20 — second only to the other governor involved in the Mooney case, Stephens, who saved 13 from execution.

CALIFORNIA HAS decreed death as the penalty for first degree murder since it first became a state in 1850, but until 1893 the executions were carried out by the counties — and records are difficult, and in some cases impossible, to find.

From 1893 to date, there have been 479 executions—306 by hanging and 173 in the gas chamber. Lethal gas became the method of execution on Aug. 27, 1937.

Although the Constitution does not require the governor to consider clemency for all death cases all of them apparently have done so.

(TOMMORROW: Gov. Edmund G. Brown's attitude on capital punishment will be aired in the final installment of the series.)

DOG OBEDIENCE CLASSES START AT POLO GROUNDS

A new school will open in Palm Springs Polo Grounds at 7:30 p. m., tonight Chet Kenneman announced.

Planned for Monday and Thursdays, the class will run 10 weeks, under the auspices of the city recreation department. Kenneman announced. He is currently conducting obedience classes at Coachella for the Park and Recreation program there.

Saund Grateful to Supporters

Congressman D. S. Saund, in a statement to the supporters who gave him an 18,432 vote lead over his Republican opponent Tuesday, said he was deeply grateful for the vote of confidence.

He outlined his program for the coming two years, and pledged his support to several major issues which will be up for Congressional action.

"I shall continue my efforts to insure a Colorado River water supply for my district during the filling period behind the Glen Canyon dam in the rivers upper basin, which is to start within the next two years," he said.

He also pledged "to work hard" to bring a conclusion to his four year effort for vegetable growers of the Desert areas to fight the impact of Mexican imports. He foresees greater cooperation between President-elect John Kennedy and himself than "there has been in the past four years."

He concluded his statement by expressing his "sincere and heartfelt appreciation to the hundreds of individuals who gave of their time, money and energy to assure my re-election."

The Desert Sun is an independent newspaper dedicated to truth, accuracy and impartiality in the news; to the progress of the desert region; to the support of that which it believes to be right and to the defeat of that which it believes wrong.

False Assumption

The predilection of people to call our newspaper with congratulations or sympathy on winning or losing an election is nationwide—and based on a false assumption. Taint so.

Newspapers do not win or lose an election—deserve neither huzzas or condolence. A newspaper worth its salt tries to get all of the facts on candidates or issues before the public impartially in its news columns. It should, and usually does, analyze the most important of the issues and on that analysis make its own recommendation editorially.

But, it neither wins or loses an election. The people decide.

The old adage that, "An informed public is the best guardian of democracy," is about as good a way to spell it out which we know.

For example, The Desert Sun was merely doing its job in affording equal space in its news columns to the proponents and opponents of the recent proposal for a school tax override. In our editorial columns we analyzed the question as best we knew how, and recommended defeat of the proposal in its present form. It lost, and the phones were busy with congratulations.

In last Tuesday's election, we similarly printed news for both sides, analyzed every proposition, and made our recommendations. The hospital bond issue which we recommended, lost. County-wide, all of the candidates we recommended won, excepting Jameson. Nationwide, they all lost.

This brought comfort to both sides. Democrats were happy because they won nationally. Republicans congratulated The Desert Sun because, by and large, they carried the county. So, the phone rang.

Turn 'em off. Congratulate, instead, the voters in all camps who turned out to fill their voting obligation. They set new records everywhere, and this is the healthiest sign this country has had.

As long as Americans will vote, and as long as this country has a free press to keep its citizens informed, we don't have too much about which to worry.

The nation has been doing pretty well along those lines for going on 200 years.

Mentality of Limitation

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Statues of Franklin Roosevelt in London and of Robert Taft in Washington are both in standing positions. No likenesses of recent heroes, I think, have been equestrian. In statutory and in ideology we are getting away from the Man on Horseback — and maybe it's a big mistake.

This is an idea which has been impounded in your reporter's head pending the end of the presidential campaign. Neither major candidate could be called militaristic, and one of the complaints you heard against Gen. Eisenhower's regime was that we needed "a military man" in the White House. Well, at least we have come to a time when it's sensible to revise our thinking about the so-called "military mind." The military, abetted by the scientific community, has done by far the best thinking of late on big national matters.

LET ME SPECIFY. In October in Desden, Illinois, Chairman John McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission made a little noticed speech. The anti-military mentality which has caused a two-year stand-down of our nuclear testing has allowed Khrushchev, according to McCone, to do a lot of catching up with the USA on nuclear weapons.

On the other hand, the development of American nuclear weapons for the Armed Services has not, as the anti-militarists feared, caused A-bombs and H-bombs to be built bigger and bigger.

QUITE THE contrary. Chairman McCone noted that the significant trend in nuclear weaponry has been to make the bangs smaller and smaller. The two A-bombs of World War II had to be carried in Super Fortresses. Today A-weapons are carried by individual soldiers and are usable on limited, tactical targets.

This is modern military thinking — and the best thinking of our age. There are other impressive examples — Rickover and the Nautilus, Rayburn and the Polaris, Medaris and the Redstone, Schriever and the Atlas. But the hardware and the weapons concepts have tremendously important, may not be as long-lasting in significance as the military — scientific thinking in regard to atomic weapons.

WHILE THE national candidates have been preaching "America can't stand pat," and "America must go forward," and while social reformers and internationalists have been making the case for elephantiasis-in-everything, only the military mind has seen the virtue of halting the stampede to bigness, of reduction in size, of refinement of effort.

This single point — a cessation of growth, a cultivation of the status quo — is more important. Nobody would dare run for office by praising the military mind, and calling for a reappraisal of the symbol of the Man on Horseback, but maybe somebody should.

MOST OF OUR troubles today spring from overabundance. We used our too-much industrial potential to save Russia in the 1940's; we used our extra wealth in the 1950's to set up industrial and commercial competitors in Europe and Asia.

Today we make more goods and raise more food than we can consume. The sentimental, socialistic mind says: "More and more." It is the realistic military mind which invented the expression "over-kill." It is the realistic military mind which preferred to develop missiles that would hit Moscow rather than the moon.

THESE THOUGHTS are a long way from being exclusively mine. In his clear-minded book, "It's Your Business," the Financial Columnist John Harriman, proposes an economic reduction in gigantism that is very close to what Chairman McCone has said about the refinement of atomic weapons. Harriman writes:

"The danger of (elephantiasis) is very real, for economic growth has become almost a fetish to politicians... man's needs and wants are not indefinitely expandable... national income is not a tree that can be forced to reach the sky."

This is the mentality of limitation, and we need it. —Holmes Alexander

Changes are constant
You can't stop progress,
Soon every place
Will be easy of access.

That is, every place in town.

WHEN PALM SPRINGS was originally laid out, wait a minute, let's make that planned, back in the 30s, four north and south streets were envisioned by the founders.

Only two went through and with the big growth of the community and constantly increasing traffic, we began to feel the pinch.

But probably a year or so from now we'll have plenty of good streets north and south.

THAT WAS PROMISED in the approval by the City Council last week of the Master Street Plan for Section 14, that square mile of Indian land in the heart of town.

First off, and already in the hopper, are plans for the widening and paving of Avenida Calaberos, half way between Indian Avenue and Sunrise Way, from Alejo Road to McCallum-Tahquitz. It will later go on through to Ramon.

JUST A THOUGHT — perhaps they could hook up this new north and south main thoroughfare with one of the streets running south to Tahquitz Channel and put that needed third vehicular bridge across here, heh?

But back to the original topic. Public works director Phil Abrams has other north and south streets, and east and west, on his map which will keep pace with the rapid growth of Palm Springs.

TIMES REALLY are changing. A minister friend of mine had this comment on the trend: "Our great-grandfathers called in the 'Holy Sabbath'."

"Our grandfathers referred to it as the 'Sabbath'."

"Our dads call it Sunday."

"Today's generation designates it as the 'weekend'."

SOME MORE about changes. Can you imagine Harry Oliver, the old Desert Rat, publisher of the Desert Rat Scrap Book, in white tie and tails?

Well, let your imagination run riot.

That's the way he's going to be retired very soon now.

His granddaughter is getting ready for the trip to the Altar.

HARRY WAS SO excited he forgot to give me any details and got away before I could ask. Said he'd give them to the society side.

In his pocket he had a letter from his daughter, the bride-to-be's mother.

It was as detailed in its instructions on how to behave and prepare for the event as some of those I get when Mrs. G. takes off for the east and leaves me to fend for myself.

STAN DELAPLANE: Writer's Cramp

The frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the shock.

Actually we have no fodder around the scatter — though I guess you could call Mr. Paladini's privately canned tuna fish fodder. I have a number of cans of that. They were sent to me by Mr. Walter Ramage, the Reno innkeeper and the world's greatest judge of tuna.

"IT'S THE OLIVE oil they put in it," said Walter. "Nothing like the old oil."

We have no pumpkins, either. I forgot to plant them again this summer. And on Halloween I had to go get one at the grocery store.

I FEEL AS though I had violated the rules when I do this. My grandfather, one of the great pumpkin carvers of all time, got his pumpkins direct from the field and from the farmer. He paid for them. But he always claimed there was no pumpkin pie like you get from a pumpkin that is borrowed on a moonless night.

We have no pumpkins and no fodder. I say things like this because I am a poet and have poetic license. (License expires January, 1965. Operator must wear glasses.)

I am a poet and a writer.

NOTHING BRUISES my ego like finding other people are writers, too.

My secretary has written a book.

I must say that I took this with a calm that you haven't seen since the Iroquois burned Father DuBois at the stake. (They burned him for a day and a half and he blessed them throughout.)

"BLESS YOU," I said to her. "And bless my soul. Did you HAVE to write a book?"

What I mean, you get a mouse around the office, she is supposed to fritter around the filing cabinets or something. She shouldn't go out and write a book. Makes you feel you are surrounded by intelligentsia.

THE BOOK IS called "The Infidels." It is written by Chloe Gartner.

I call her Chloe.

Like I say: "Chloe, look under 'S' in the filing cabinet and see if I didn't tuck away a clean shirt to put on."

SHE LOOKS in the file cabinet and the shirt is under "C" for "clean clothing."

Sometimes it is under "E" for emergencies.

Anyway, we always have a shirt in the file cabinet. So I can change if I have to go out that evening and don't want to go home first.

BACK TO THE literary life: This book, "The Infidels," is published by Doubleday. Price $4.95.

My last book was $4.95. As I remember, Doubleday turned it down.

This is the kind of cross I must bear.

SPEAKING OF crosses — this book is about the First Crusade. Not only must I put up with intelligence and literary competition. I have nursed a blooming scholar in my bosom.

There were ten Crusades. I imagine this is part of a series. She will go on and on and I will suffer and suffer.

"O! beware, my lord of jealousy: 'Tis the green-eyed monster which doth mock the meat it feeds on."

I am a pretty literary character myself.

THERE SEEMS to be an epidemic mania afflicting the people of our times. EVERYBODY is writing books.

I thought we had it stamped out in our office, though. I thought it was enough that I do all the book writing. But no. All the time, this girl was afflicted with the bookwriting mania. Out of control.

However, I face this as bravely as I can. What I mean, buy the book. Or I will find my shirts filed under "M." For "meanie."

MIKE CONNOILLY:

Nixon Gives Answer

HOLLYWOOD — HOLLYWOOD HOTSTUFF — Richard Nixon, on Election Eve, gave me the answer to a question that has long bothered Hollywood stars, both Democratic and Republican. The question: Should stars risk their popularity with the fans by coming out for a political candidate? The answer, from Nixon, a native Californian whose wife was once an actress and an aspirant to stardom:

"I know it is tough for a star to take a stand on a political issue. The star knows, as we in politics know, just how tough it is — because there are always those fans of theirs who take an opposite stand. There is always the possibility, because of this, that the star's popularity will be hurt. And that is why I am so grateful to all of those stars who came out publicly for me — Ronald Reagan, Louise Beavers, John Wayne, Leo Carrillo, Anita Louise, Lucille Norman, Cesar Romero and Jane Powell, to name a few. It takes courage. They deserve a great hand."

P. S.: THE OTHER stars who campaigned for Nixon are Mary Pickford, John Payne, Wendell Corey, Bill Demarest, Maria Tilton, Buddy Ebsen, Penny Singleton, Connie Moore, Marshall Thompson, Laraine Day and Terry Moore. Nixon had an awful lot of other things on his mind when I spoke to him. I think it's remarkable he remembered the names of as many as he did.

Movie producer Bob Buckner's book, How to Escape from America, will be published by Doubleday in the spring. It's about Hollywood stars who run off to Europe to escape paying high U. S. taxes. Bob tells me: "It contains facts and figures about these 'Swisscitizens' that have never before been printed. I think the Internal Revenue boys may be interested in the vital and none-too-flattering statistics I have dug up about these expatriate feasters — on pheasants-and-foie-gras."

Buckner didn't mention any names but among the stars and other movie people who have taken up residence in Europe are Bill Holden, Deborah Kerr, Ava Gardner, Liz Taylor, Judy Garland, Jack Palance, Yul Brynner, Orson Welles, Audrey Hepburn, Mel Ferrer, Paulette Goddard, Erich Maria Remarque, Robert Siodmak, Norman Krasna, Gene Kelly and Peter Ustinov.

JILL ST. JOHN, now that she's the wife of millionaire Lance Reventlow, has started using a "loupe" (jeweler's eyeglass) to study the worth of the baubles she and her husband buy.

A studio press agent snapped at a starlet in the Fox commissary: "Do you realize you just snubbed a foreign press correspondent?" The starlet snapped right back: "So what? I'm DEAD in Rangoon anyway!"

CHANNEL CHATTER — Watch for Jack Benny to have more girl singers on his shows this season, in order to hype his ratings. He has already signed Connie Francis and is trying to nab the McGuire Sisters for his Feb. 9 special. NBC is trying to keep it a secret, in order to keep the other networks from getting the jump on them — but how can they when the news has leaked out that a camera crew is in the Sarasota, Fla., winter quarters of Ringling Brothers — Barnum and Bailey shooting back-grounds for the pilot film of a proposed new circus series. I latched onto the title too: The Big Tent.

HAL (GILDERSLEEVE) Peary knows a doctor who duns his patients only twice by mail. The third time, he sends 'em a disease!

Steve Allen is negotiating with NBC for a new series of specials to replace those Sunday Steverino shows that proved so popular till the opposition clobbered 'em. But Steve will get no firm contract with the network until he finds a sponsor.

PAT BOONE MOVED his family from the East to Hollywood and no sooner done than his daughters Cherry, aged six, and Linda, aged five, returned from their first day at school to announce, "We're engaged." Pouts Pat: "I kept telling my wife it wouldn't happen but it has — the Hollywood influence!"

John Wayne is boiling mad at the TV "sharpies" who dug around in their backlog of old movies and started beaming on local stations cross-country the minute Wayne's new movie, The Alamo, hit the first-run theatres. Not because they're old. Because they're based on the same theme as The Alamo. The two oldies are San Antonio and She Wore a Yellow Ribbon.

WAYNE HAS Clark Gable on his side. When I told Gable about the Wayne incident, he said, "That's one of the reasons I'll never accept a TV offer. I wouldn't do anything that would hurt the movie business. It's been too good to me."

Old TV stars don't fade away, they go into movies. Herb Shriner is negotiating with 20th-Fox to star in a remake of an old movie starring the late Will Rogers, Lightnin'. Come to think of it, Shriner socks across his comedy lines in the same homespun fashion as the old Cowboy Philo. James Mason, who turns down more network TV shows than he accepts, appeared on his wife's local show (on Los Angeles' Channel 7) last Monday. Pamela Mason explained: "It was easy signing him. All I had to do was threaten to leave him alone with our two children for a day."

the Golden Door beauty spa; Mrs. Earl Dodd, most original, two treatments at the Spa. Standing, from left, Mrs. Terry Ray, most spectacular, champagne dinner for four at Howard Manor; Lucille Putnam, zaniest, champagne dinner for four at El Mirador; Cal Brown, second for men, champagne dinner for four at the Biltmore; Mrs. Gordon Krysan, best Palm Springs hat, two days for two at the North Shore Beach & Yacht Club. (Desert Sun Photo)

Four hundred women and more than a few men, crowded into Chi Chi Starlite Room Friday for the biggest Hat Parade Luncheon yet, and chairman Verkina Beck and her large committee expressed satisfaction with the results.

A violin hat, a woman with mint green hair, a pink poodle, a hat that hung down to the waist, covering its wearer like a tent and a wedding cake hat, were some of the fantastic entries that caused actor Charlie Irwin to comment "if you have a head you can wear anything."

From the moment the three judges, Mr. Guy, John Morris and Mike Jackson of the Examiner, laid eyes on Mrs. Randolph Christie, there was never any doubt about the winner in the around-the-world category, and they liked it so well they awarded her the sweepstakes prize of a week at Golden Door health spa in Escondido.

Her maumau-like costume was covered entirely with travel stickers 500 of them, from all the places the Christies have visited on their travels, and her earrings and the ties for her global hat, were made of souvenir coins.

Truly beautiful was Mrs. John McClure's hat of fresh flowers from her garden, topped by orchids, and it won her the two nights, three days and a dinner show for two at the Hotel Sahara in Las Vegas, and was arranged by Olman Travel Agency.

Thematic was the red, white and blue Armistice Day hat and gown worn by Blanche Peterson, and realistic was Nancy Herbert's "I Still Like Nixon" hat. Mrs. Terry Ray, representing Alaska, wound "last year's white fox stole" into a tall shako with a red rose pinned on it. It was spectacular, and won her that award champagne dinner for four at Howard Manor.

One of the most original was the hat that won the special award, "Palm Canyon Drive." Worn by Mrs. C. L. Corfman, it had battery-lighted palm trees along the Drive, with its little cars and its shops. It won her a champagne dinner for four at Hilltop Room.

Mrs. David Itkin, one of the desert's best-known painters, wore a palette beret. Marion Brown, all in black, wore a black velvet globe on her head, with Palm Springs marked by a diamond. Mrs. Glenn Austin wore a charming floral bonnet. Mrs. R. Torrey Spannawore a pink carnation hat with a cherub on top, for Anglo View, and Mrs. Jack Coppas did too.

Mrs. Lynch described her costume as "I'm for the birds." She was in black with white birds perched on her hat on her shoulder, on her wrist and on her handbag. Mrs. William Malouf wore a picturesque Gay 90s hat of pink feathers, with a pink rose on top. Mrs. Chester Coghlan as the "Busy Clubwoman," used a green telephone handset on her hat, with the base as the top of her handbag.

There was a snow scene hat, with red cardinals on it, a hat decorated in wheat and called "Hay Fever." There was a pampas grass hat trimmed with roses, and the Mary Noel hat, worn by Jessie Baumgardner, that was fashioned of orange plumes and orange roses, with a roadrunner perched on top. There were Christmas hats, of trees, of holly and poinsettias, and a vixen hat, that was a leopard head with great yellow glass eyes. There was an authentic mandarin hat of embroidered satin and fur trimmed, and a Japanese farm woman hat, that was a basket loaded with flowers, worn by Mrs. John Brooks.

Mrs. Ben Gale, who was on safari in Africa this summer, wore a Mt. Kenya Club hat, and leopard scarf. Ruth Elder and British Speed King Donald Campbell wore North Shore shirts and beachcomber-topped hats. Pretty Anne Gwynne balanced a chaise longue on her head, while Ruth Passow carried around a little grass shack and palm tree scene. Ginger Tomack was attractive in an orchid gown and accessories and orchid trimmed hat.

New this year and very dramatic was the commercial category that brought out some of the most exciting hats ever seen in the Village.

Hildy Crawford, Society Editor

The winning entry was the all gold outfit and hat entered by Janie. Modeled by Norma Hyams, it was a tall chapeau, with marine and basketry and artistry. With it she wore gold lame capris and shirt from Beebes and gold clogs.

J. W. Robinson had a table that was trimmed with hats, in addition to those the women were wearing, and one of their top designers modeled the hat that was a strong contender for the trophy. Kay Cantowayne was wearing orchid capris and top, with striped chiffon overskirt, and orchid gandy hat, trimmed with Palm Springs items like sun glasses and a bathing beauty on top.

The pink poodle paraded with Edith Morrey's beautiful entry, a blue lace gown and bag worn with a flower-laden hat in pink and blue.

Barbara Foster, from the Conover School was in purple, with basket hat sprouting balloons, and a dancing girl on top. Brasell's entry was unique, a black and white study in strapless bras.

Bullocks' stunning use of red and blue, was smoothly and beautifully executed, with the model wearing a red gown, carrying a blue bag, and wearing a wound-up hat of red and blue. Guadalajara Boys Utilize Teamwork

By GEORGE LAINE
 You wouldn't be too far wrong if you dubbed the Guadalajara Boys the "Four Horsemen of the Howard Manor."

When Frank Day flipped the simile at the citizenry a few weeks ago, there were snickers around and about the Howard Manor's Celebrity Lounge but the laughs were out of line for a change, not Frank.

THE COMPARISON is apt for obvious reasons.

Miller, Crowley, Stuhldreher and Leyden worked in the Notre Dame backfield together for four years. They came to understand one another's every action, every thought. By the time they reached their senior years at South Bend, the four were a tightly-knit machine.

The Guadalajara Boys are much the same. Sharing a camaraderie that knows no bounds, the boys have managed to mesh their musical gears in such fashion as to remain continuously employed — even when club business is at its lowest ebb.

THAT'S UNUSUAL enough for most people close to the business but not enough to satisfy the perfection-seeking quartet.

For a group that has been together for more than two decades the original Guadalajara Boys quartet formed at the Agua Caliente Club in Tijuana back in 1939, the foursome still performs an unheard-of ritual: They rehearse at least twice a week, add new material, rework old favorites.

And that isn't a thing that is a direct order from one or another of the GB members. They have no official "leader" although Rudy Garcia, the pianist, is actually the musical director of the group.

RUDY HAILS FROM Nayarite,

Mex. and has been a Guadalajara Boy for 12 years. He started with the group during a gig at the Doll House here and hasn't layed out once.

Rudy didn't start out as a pianist. At age 12, he was playing both violin and trumpet and took up the piano a year later. Sometime later — he doesn't recall exactly when — he also picked up accordion technique and has proved to be one of the few truly effective workmen on this demanding instrument.

Soft-spoken but firm, Rudy does much for the orchestration for the GB troupe which makes him largely responsible for the sound they achieve.

ON THE STAND, Dave Guardo and Jo Jo Gonzalez are the unofficial "leaders," the pair working alternately from the two mikes at either side of the piano.

Dave has been a GB for nine years, coming to the band after work with Harry Owens and Henry Busse. He specialized in guitar until he came to the group, quickly adapted himself to the bass fiddle which he makes roar nightly for Howard Manor patrons. Dave was born in Corpus Christi, Tex., raised in Santa Barbara and at one time had a band of his own in the El Paseo there.

Jo Jo, the newest addition to the ranks of the Boys, may also be one of their best drawing cards. Born in Mexico City (and raised in Juarez), Jo Jo has had vocal experience with such highly rated bands as Perez Prado, Xavier Cugat, Carlos Molina and Rene Touzet. (He recorded with Touzet and also has his own LP out on Tops Records called "Havana Holiday.") Jo Jo also is featured in Decca's new "Original Music by the Guadalajara Boys" LP.

THE ONLY ORIGINAL member of the Guadalajara Boys, Mario Santos, specializes in guitar and also fills gaps in the rhythmic structure of the group.

As a 21-year member of the troupe, the newly-married Mario has worked in each of the 60-plus films in which the GB have participated.

Born in Guadalajara, Mario (like the rest of the GB foursome) is an American citizen and has seen service with the U. S. Army.

He was a teenager when he played his first engagement, in the Dempsey Hotel Playa at Ensenada in 1938. (It's only coincidence that Mario's current co-boss is also Dempsey. Jack that is.)

ABOUT THOSE MOVIES, now. There is scarcely a star you can name who hasn't been "on set" at one time or another with the Boys. Since their first pic ("Tropical Holiday" with Ray Milland and Dorothy Lamour), they cavorted with such stars as Sinatra and Gene Kelly ("Anchors Aweigh"), Betty Grable and Carmen Miranda ("Down Argentina Way"), Alice Faye and Caesar Romero ("Weekend in Havana"), Van Johnson, Red Skelton and Esther Williams ("Bathing Beauty") and with Lana Turner, Hedy Lamarr and Judy Garland ("Ziegfeld Girl").

The guys did what they do best — play music. And they did it with such aplomb, such verve, such professionalism that they were recalled more than 60 times to work on film assignments.

THAT TESTIMONY is good enough for club owners, who grab off the Guadalajara Boys with such dispatch that they seldom have an "off week" in which to catch up on things like bullfights, honeymoons, visits to Mexico and other details.

Anyway, that's the guys. Or, rather, the Boys.

Start of Circus

SOMERS, N. Y. (UPI) — The statue of an elephant in this Westchester County village marks a farmer's whim and the coming of age of the U. S. circus.

The farmer imported a female elephant named Old Bet in 1908 for some long-forgotten reason. When the animal proved too frightening for his neighbors' horses he sold her to a traveling menagerie which in time grew into a circus, featuring America's first circus elephant.

GAMBLES BY 'OLD PROS' SUCCESSFUL

By NORMAN MILLER
United Press International

The "old pro" quarterbacks gambled and won. And that's why the Baltimore Colts, Philadelphia Eagles and New York Giants have an edge today in the race for the National Football League championship.

Johnny Unitas of the Colts, Norm Van Brocklin of the Eagles and "Good Old Charlie" Conerly of the Giants took a chance that it paid off in victory, when failure would have meant a serious setback in the pressure-packed battle for the pro title.

UNITAS PASSED up a chance for a field goal, and on fourth down with 14 yards to go he threw a 39-yard touchdown pass to Larry Moore with 42 seconds left on the clock to give Baltimore a 24-20 victory over the Chicago Bears.

Van Brocklin, frustrated by six straight incomplete passes, faded back to a seventh try on fourth down with 8 to go and connected on a 28-yard touchdown pass to Bobby Walston in the final period as the Eagles rallied for a 19-13 victory over the Washington Redskins.

AND CONERLY, who is 39, slow of foot and risks life and limb every time he carries the ball, broke loose for runs of 12 and 16 yards to set up Pat Summerall's 37-yard field goal which gave the Giants a 27-24 win over the Pittsburgh Steelers. Summerall's kick was made with 39 seconds left to play.

As a result, the Colts retained first place in the Western Division of the NFL with a 6-2 record. The Green Bay Packers (5-2) stayed close behind by crushing the Dallas Cowboys, 40-17. This was the winless Cowboys' eighth defeat.

THE EAGLES' triumph was their sixth in a row since dropping the season-opener and preserved their slim edge over the Giants (5-1-1). The Cleveland Browns (5-2) remained in the running by surviving a 23-27 squeaker against the St. Louis Cardinals. The Detroit Lions also won a close one, defeating the Los Angeles Rams, 12-10.

In the American Football League, the Los Angeles Chargers clung to first place in the Western Division by beating the Eastern Division-leading Houston Oilers, 24-21; the Dallas Texans trounced the Denver Broncos, 34-7, and the Oakland Raiders beat the Buffalo Bills, 20-7.

Bantamweights Battle in Top Bout This Week

NEW YORK — (UPI) — A bantamweight title fight (NBA version) and two interesting middleweight bouts top this week's boxing entertainment.

Eder Jofre of Brazil and Eloy Sanchez of Mexico are slated for a 15-rounder at the Los Angeles Olympic Auditorium Friday night and the winner will be recognized as world bantamweight (118 pounds) champion by the National Boxing Association and the California commission.

The fight will not be televised or broadcast in the United States. However, on Saturday night there will be a nationally televised 10-rounder in Madison Square Garden, where middleweight contender Henry Hank (160 pounds) of Detroit makes his New York debut against Gene (Ace) Armstrong of Elizabeth, N.J.

Without benefit of TV, another good middleweight scrap is slated for Tuesday night at Buffalo, N.Y., home town of contender Joey Giambra, who'll try to avenge a 1957 defeat by Rory Calhoun of White Plains, N.Y., in a return 10-rounder.

COMPETITION IN TOP BOWL GAMES TO BE DECIDED SOON

By DICK JOYCE
United Press International

Traditional rivalries and battles to preserve perfect records by the four remaining major colleges top next weekend's football schedule, but the bowl picture won't be completed for still another week.

While Missouri, Washington, Arkansas, Mississippi and Florida are virtual shoe-ins for berths in the major bowl games, the identity of most of the visiting teams remains to be decided when the Southwest and Southeastern conferences conclude their seasons Nov. 26.

OVERPOWERING MISSOURI —The only unbeaten and untied team in the Top Ten — aims to make Kansas its 10th consecutive victim this Saturday and clinch the Big Eight crown, a trip to the Orange Bowl and possibly the national championship.

The second-ranked Tigers stunned Oklahoma, 41-19, last Saturday for their first triumph over the Sooners in 15 years.

"host" for the Rose Bowl game again, its opponent apparently will be decided this weekend between either Minnesota or Iowa of the Big Ten.

The first-ranked Gophers attempt to rebound from their 23-14 defeat by Purdue against Wisconsin, while Iowa, ranked No. 6, plays Notre Dame, loser of seven straight. The Big Ten title is also at stake with Minnesota needing a victory to tie Iowa for the lead. The Hawkeyes tripped third-ranked Ohio State, 35-12, last Saturday.

OLE MISS, RANKED No. 4, remained unbeaten and kept its lead in the Southeastern Conference by trouncing Tennessee, 24-3. The Rebels, all set for the Sugar Bowl, meet Mississippi State this weekend.

Mississippi's rival in the classic is expected to come from the Southwestern Conference as is Florida's rival in the Gator Bowl. Texas, Baylor and Rice appear to be the leading candidates to fill these berths.

SEVENTH-RANKED Arkansas is the logical choice for the Cotton Bowl, with Alabama and Tennessee, of the Southeastern Conference, or Navy as a possible opponent.

The Razorbacks beat Southern Methodist, 26-3, last Saturday and play Texas Tech in their finale. Duke, leader in the Atlantic Coast Conference, is expected to be Arkansas' rival in the Cotton classic. The Blue Devils defeated Wake Forest, 34-7, last weekend.

HENNESEY STUBS TOE WITH NURSE

Chick Hennessey escapes sea duty on a submarine only to stub his toe with Nurse Martha Hale when his manner implies he would have preferred service on the underwater craft to escorting Miss Hale to the admiral's dinner in "Hennessey and the Submarine" on "Hennessey" Monday, Nov. 14 (CBS Television Network; 10 - 10:30 p.m.).

Jackie Cooper, starring as Navy doctor Chick Hennessey, at first pleads claustrophobia when confronted by brief submarine assignment, but discovers there is a fascination to the undersea after he explores a sub.

Abby Dalton, as Martha, plays hard to get after Chick's faux pas. Also featured in the cast are Roscoe Karns as Captain Shafter, Robert Brubaker as Captain Hardy, the submarine commander, Frank Evans as Commander Quirt, the ship's executive officer; William Idelson as Corpsman Riley, who is assigned to the sub; Alan Dexter as Lt. Hammer and Joe Perry as Lt. Kraus.

Different Navy Band Presented

Dr. Martin Klein lets viewers listen to the music of Admiral Dan's Pandemoniacs, a Trinidad steel band named entirely by U. S. sailors, in "A Different Navy Band" on "Adventure Tomorrow," Monday, Nov. 14, 8 p.m.; KCOP, Channel 13.

Via a sound track supplied by the Pandemoniacs, viewers will hear their unique instrument — a steel drum which is the top of an oil barrel with tuned dents hammered in it. Other segments remind us that the Navy also is a fighting force.

EXCLUSION ASKED BY SCHOOL BOARD

The Palm Springs Unified School District board last night instructed the administration to write the Palm Springs City Council, requesting exclusion from a proposed improvement district for Mesquite Avenue between South Palm Canyon Drive and Calle Palo Fierro.

The district seeks improvement including grading, paving and installation of curbs and gutters. Approximately 1,100 lineal feet, at a city - estimated $8 per foot, would be in front of Cahulla school.

Dr. Bernard Poliak, board president, said "we have no alternative." He explained there are no funds available for the project, and that a public agency, unlike private property owners, has to make immediate cash payments if required to finance the improvements.

Dear Abby...

12 The Desert Sun

Monday, Nov. 14, 1960

... by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: Should brothers and sisters tell their parents when one or the other does something wrong? Is this being a "tattle-tale" or is it the duty of a child to report wrong - doing to his parents? Should parents ask or expect their children to police one another's conduct? I have asked this question of many people and no one has come up with an answer that satisfies me. I'd like to see this in print. Perhaps others have pondered the same question.

DEAR PUZZLED: Parents should neither expect nor encourage their children to "inform" on one another, but it depends entirely on the nature of the "crime." Is Junior swiping cookies? Or is he smoking opium?

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a perfect gentleman. When he takes me to our club dance, he always asks me for the first dance. Then he disappears and I don't see him again all evening. Once I went looking for him and I found him outside playing hopscotch with a young woman. (She was a school teacher and had chalk in her purse.) Another time he put on the waitress' cap and apron and helped serve drinks. He loves to be the life of the party, but he will be the death of me! Now how do you handle a man like that?

DEAR UP: With kid gloves. He's priceless!

DEAR ABBY: Our 19-year-old son gave his girl (18) an engagement ring before he went to Korea four months ago. His father and I let them talk us into it, although we thought they were both too young. We heard that this girl was running around on our boy, but we didn't write to him about it. Yesterday she brought his ring over and asked me to send it back to him as she didn't want to be "tied down."

Should I send him the ring? His father says we should keep it quiet until he comes home. What would you do?

HURT MOM

DEAR MOM: Don't send the ring. In my book there is no one lower than a girl who would break an engagement this way. The very least a serviceman's "sweetheart" can do is to wait until Johnny comes marching home again. But if she's running around, your son might learn it in a letter from someone else, so insist that the girl herself write him and set the record straight.

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter from "LIAR'S WIFE," who for years was unknowingly "the other woman," I would like to of-

Ike Asks End To Religious, Racial Issues

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower asked each American today to "examine his conscience" and try to end racial and religious discrimination. He made the appeal in proclaiming Dec. 10-17 as "Human Rights Week" to mark the 160th anniversary of the Bill of Rights and the 12th anniversary of the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights.

Eisenhower, spending the fourth day of a deep-South vacation at the Augusta National Golf Club, awaited Mrs. Eisenhower's arrival Sunday so they could celebrate her 64th birthday together on Monday.
